January Guild Meeting -- January 22, 2008 at the White Rock Baptist Church

Carole Rinard will speak on "Getting into Character: Costume Embellishment at the Santa Fe Opera"

One of the things that makes a production at the Santa Fe Opera so special is the attention to detail in costumes so that the singer becomes that character for the evening. Selection of fabrics, trims and the construction of the garments to fit the singer make the person believable as the character. No detail is too small - even though, perhaps, it is only the maker who knows that the ladybug is nestled in the wreath of a chorus member in Falstaff. Carole Rinard has been a volunteer in the costume shop for 19 seasons and has witnessed the many ways of helping the singer to get into character through costuming.

Block of the Month: January 2008

The January block of the month is the Heart Block. See instructions attached or pick up the directions and fabric at Pandy's. The February block of the month directions and fabric will be available at the January meeting for $1.00.

A celebration of her life will take place from 1 pm to 3 pm Sunday, Feb. 17, 2008, at Fuller Lodge in Los Alamos. The family has asked the quilters to provide the food. Please bring finger food or cookies to Fuller Lodge at or before 1 pm. Please contact Sue Friar at 672-1641 if you have questions and to let her know what you intend to bring.

It's time for our annual Valentine's Day Luncheon for the RSVP Senior Quilters. It will be on Wednesday, February 13, 2008, at the Betty Ehart Senior Center (which is behind Mesa Library), 11:00 A.M. Bring a dish to share, quilt(s) for show and tell if you can, and arrive at the Center around 11:00. We will eat lunch first about 11:45, and then show the quilts that we brought. A sign-up sheet will be passed around at the January meeting.
