November 2013 Guild Meeting Tuesday, November 19, 2013, Noon United Church of Los Alamos

The November meeting will be a noon meeting. We will meet on Tuesday, November 19th at the United Church of Los Alamos at noon.

Darlene Zimmerman, the feedsack lady, is coming from Minnesota. She will be doing a trunk show/lecture "From Ho Hum to WOW!" Her lecture will start right at noon, and will be followed by our guild business meeting.

On Wednesday, November 20th Darlene will present her "Oopsie Daisy" workshop. This workshop incorporates both piecing and applique in any of three different size quilts. Easy strip piecing is used for the blocks and several methods of applique will be taught.

Darlene Zimmerman is both an author and designer. She has designed both patterns and fabrics. Darlene has published 12 books and designed many patterns. She has designed fabrics for Robert Kaufman for 13 years and developed several quilting tools. You can get more information on her web page.

Dear Piecemakers,

The holidays are nearly upon us! Are you working on Christmas gifts or decorations?

We hope that you are planning to attend our November meeting - one week earlier due to Thanksgiving! Come to United Church at 12 noon on Tuesday, November 19th. I promise we will do our best to start the program, with national speaker Darlene Zimmerman, right on time. We hear she's really fun!

After Darlene's presentation, we will have our business meeting. This month we elect officers for 2014. We have most positions filled, but we're still looking for a vice president (or two) to plan meetings/speakers. If you have some great ideas, know some potential speakers, and get excited about workshops (the vice president does not pay to attend workshops), please get in touch with me!
See you all at the meeting!

Laura, President
